A Limited and Strategic Supply

The total supply of Jose tokens is capped at 21 million, a symbolic nod to scarcity and value preservation. Here's the strategic distribution of these tokens:

Presale Tokens: 10 million tokens are allocated for the presale, providing early investors with a significant opportunity to acquire Jose tokens at a potentially lower price before it hits the broader market.

Liquidity & Listing Reserves: 7.5 million tokens are reserved to ensure sufficient liquidity for market launch and exchange listings. This strategic allocation is designed to facilitate smooth trading and price stability once the token is live.

Community Rewards: 1.5 million tokens are set aside to reward community members who contribute to the project through marketing efforts on social media, content creation, and other means. In a special post-launch initiative, we will burn 1,000,000 tokens to further reduce the supply and increase scarcity, potentially driving up value.

Marketing: 1 million tokens are dedicated to ongoing marketing, partnerships, and acquisitions. This ensures that the Jose token will continuously reach new audiences and build robust partnerships, driving long-term growth.

Team: 1 million tokens are allocated to the dedicated team behind the Jose token for upfront token creation, ongoing maintenance, investor relations, and marketing costs. This ensures that our team remains motivated and well-equipped to support the project's success.
